

Volunteer and Intern Application

SFWAR seeks people committed to:

- Supporting Survivors of Sexual Assault
- Challenging All Forms of Oppression that Contribute to Sexual Violence
- Developing Valuable Counseling, Facilitation, and Leadership Skills.

Based on studies of interpersonal violence, there are five communities that are particularly vulnerable to sexual violence. These communities often face multiple barriers in accessing services. This is due to discrimination and lack of culturally and linguistically competent programs. As a part of our process of breaking down some of those barriers, SFWAR encourages the participation of members of these communities (listed below) to become members and leaders within SFWAR as volunteers, staff and board members. It would be helpful for us to know if you identify as a member of the communities listed below. Please check all that apply for you.

- Marginally housed or homeless women¹
- Latina immigrant women
- Formerly incarcerated women
- Young women (20 & under)
- Trans and queer (LBQI) women of color

I'm interested in becoming a counselor.²

- Direct services: Hotline, Medical Accompaniments, Peer Counseling

I'm interested in volunteering with SFWAR events and/or administrative tasks.

- Non-direct services: Event Organizing, Fundraising, Office Work

¹ SFWAR's understanding of "woman/women" is based on self-identification. SFWAR supports and prioritizes the leadership of transgender, gender variant, intersex and gender non-conforming people.

² After successfully completing our 84-hour training, volunteers are CA state-certified rape crisis counselors. SFWAR requires a 1-year commitment of 32 hours/month and one form of fundraising.

SFWAR is committed to “building leadership from the bottom up.” We want our community to include the voices and experiences of individuals who are impacted by sexual violence, especially those who face a variety of challenges imposed by society.

6. Can you tell us a bit about your background and life experiences (your age, gender, economic background, races, ethnicities, sexual orientation, etc.), and what kinds of perspectives you would bring to SFWAR?

7. Have you done work like this before (peer counseling, facilitating, volunteer or internship work at a nonprofit organization, etc.)?

8. Do you have any specific knowledge about sexual assault (for example, from reading, friends/family, personal experiences, etc.)?

9. [Optional question] If you identify as a survivor of sexual violence, what has been helpful for you in your own healing process? How do you think this intensive training will impact you?

SFWAR believes that in order to end sexual assault, we have to challenge all forms of oppression and human rights violations. We need to challenge both our own internalized oppressions as well as structural and historical forms of racism, transphobia, sexism, homophobia, classism, and ageism. We strive to create a respectful community that challenges prejudice and discrimination.

10. Do you have experience challenging your own oppressive attitudes and behaviors (please describe)?

11. In what ways are you willing to work against prejudice and discrimination both personally and in your volunteer and/or internship work?

12. Below is a scenario, please identify what issues may be affecting the survivor and avenues of support that may be viable for the survivor.

A female sex-worker was assaulted last night and is very confused and upset. She is not quite sure what went wrong with her client, but she is now blaming herself. She agreed to have vaginal sex, but her client proceeded to force anal sex upon her. She knows that what he did was wrong but is nervous that the cops won't believe her because she is a sex worker and have harassed her in the past. She wants him to go to jail for what he did, but is nervous about the criminal justice process because she is afraid she will get blamed.

13. Doing work against sexual violence can be difficult and stressful. What kind of support will you have while you are volunteering and/ or interning with SFWAR?

14. Are you a native speaker of a language other than English? If so, what language(s)?

15. For volunteers who are native speakers of needed languages other than English: SFWAR offers 8-hour training on providing multilingual services. Are you interested in attending this training and providing services in a language other than English?³

Yes No

16. SFWAR does not accept people who are currently perpetrators of sexual, relationship or dating violence as volunteers. If you have questions, please feel free to ask questions or discuss this with the Director of Volunteers and Hotline. Please sign here to show that that you are aware of this policy.
